

LEAGUE IS HANDY MAN OF EUROPE IS BELIEF EXPRESSED

London, Jan. 10.—Take it from Sir Eric Drummond, the League of Nations is the "handy man" of Europe.

Sir Eric, who is the general secretary of the League, contends that whenever European nations have a job that looks difficult or disagreeable they "wish it off" on the League. Whether the problem is political, scientific, administrative, executive, humanitarian or financial the practice has grown up of "turning it over to the league."

The league, Sir Eric made it plain, is not complaining. It delights in its tasks and welcomes the burdens imposed upon it.

Modestly the league's secretary advanced the claim that every problem that has been submitted to the organization for adjustment, except one, has been straightened out or is in the process of solution. The one exception is the Vilna dispute.

"We were unable to bring about an adjustment of the Vilna matter," Sir Eric said, "but the intervention of the league undoubtedly averted a situation that might have had very serious results."

Disputes Settled

Two political disputes which Sir Eric claims have been satisfactorily settled by the league are those involving the Aland Islands and Albania. Both of these controversies, he declares, had possibilities "fully as pregnant with disaster as was the dispute which brought on the European War."

The league takes great credit to itself, its secretary declares, for obtaining guarantees designed to preserve the independence of Austria. Financially speaking, Sir Eric contends, the league has demonstrated its ability. The commission of the league which is governing the Saar Basin has a surplus in its budget—a situation few European governments can duplicate.

One of the immediate plans of the league involves a customs conference to be held under the auspices of the economic committee, which will be asked to draw up uniform customs regulations designed to help the flow of trade between nations. This conference will be held at Geneva in the near future.

Aids Disarmament

The league also intends to take a hand in the movement for disarmament, according to Sir Eric. It has been proposed that a commission be appointed to draw up a detailed plan for disarmament to be presented to the next assembly of the league. The question of the extension of the Washington naval armament treaties to nations that were not represented at the Washington conferences also is to be discussed at the next meeting of the league council.

The humanitarian work of the league at present is centering around the fight to stamp out with evils of opium and cocaine. The opium question is a difficult one, Sir Eric admits but the cocaine problem is not insoluble.

"If the league is properly supported by the nations of the world," Sir Eric said, "it can stamp out the cocaine evil in five years. All that is necessary is to establish a system of controlling production by the licensing and strict regulation of factories producing the drug."

Although America has rejected membership in the league it has not entirely held aloof from the activities of the organization, Sir Eric said. The first official connection of the United States with the league came with the appointment of a representative of the American government on the commission set up by the league to consider means of preventing the spread of anthrax. More recently the United States Government has named a representative to the league's advisory committee established to consider problems arising out of the "white slave" traffic.

The question of the admission of Turkey to the league, which has arisen as a result of the Near East Conference at Lausanne, will have to be decided by the assembly of the league at its regular meeting next September. If the matter became urgent, however, Sir Eric said that the league council which meets in January, has the power to call a special meeting of the assembly to consider the question.

THIRTEEN REASONS FOR 13-CENT STAMP ARE BEING OFFERED

Washington, Jan. 10.—Citing 13 reasons why the Post Office Department should issue a 13 cent stamp, and declaring the entire history of the United States is bound up in the figures 13, 26 students, just twice 13, of the Shepherd College, State Normal of West Virginia, petitioned Postmaster General Work to authorize issuance of a 13 cent stamp.

Not only should a 13 cent stamp be issued, the students avowed, but the design on it should commemorate the 13 colonies which originally constituted the United States.

The 13 reasons for issuing a 13 cent stamp were stated in the petition as follows:

- 1—America was discovered on the eve of the thirteenth of the month.
- 2—The original Republic consisted of thirteen colonies.
- 3—The first official flag had thirteen stripes and thirteen stars.
- 4—Our national emblem, the American Eagle, requires thirteen letters to spell it; also does our motto, "E pluribus unum."

5—The first word to pass over the Atlantic cable was sent on the thirteenth day of the month.

6—Our silver quarter is written all over with thirteen. Around the head of Liberty are thirteen stars. The eagle bears an olive branch, with 13 leaves, in one claw and thirteen thunderbolts in the other. On his breast is a shield bearing thirteen bars and from his beak is a ribbon bearing the motto with thirteen letters. Each wing has thirteen feathers, and it takes thirteen letters to spell "quarter dollar."

7—There are thirteen letters in John Paul Jones' name.

8—There were thirteen ships in the first American navy.

9—Perry's victory on Lake Erie was won on the thirteenth day of the month.

10—The Stars and Stripes were raised over Fort Sumter on the thirteenth of the month.

11—General Pershing reached France on June, the thirteenth, 1917.

12—The thirteenth amendment to our constitution freed the country of slavery.

13—It would not cost any more to make a thirteen cent stamp than any other one.

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells. That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells; This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many men because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S. since 1892, has meant thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Hollow cheeks fill out. You stop being a calanthy-looker. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a peppy, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. It contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare, and really there is nothing better for coughs. Into a pint bottle, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

SKATING POND NOW AWAITS WEATHERMAN KIWANIS ANNOUNCE

It is up to the weather man if Xenia lovers of ice skating are going to have opportunity for this winter sport.

Members of the Kiwanis Club have provided the pond within the city limits with the completion of their lagoon in the Dadds addition, and if Old Man Winter furnishes some freezing weather the ice-skaters dreams will be realized.

As a result of club action, two acres of water where the H. E. Schmidt pond was formerly located will be ready for skating any time it is cold enough to freeze the ice solid. Although the workmen have not completed their job of cleaning out the artificial lagoon, the work has been completed near enough to provide skating.

The lagoon is located east of the Pennsylvania Railroad in the Dadds addition, adjacent to what will eventually be Detroit boulevard, and within the tract set off for a park by F. W. Dadds, who developed the tract, and represents the consummation of Mr. Dadds' original plan to flood the area for a lagoon.

Kiwanis Club members originally planned to build an outdoor swimming pool in that section, when the suggestion was first made last summer. Investigation by a committee showed that the expense would be great and as winter was approaching, the plan was dropped. Later the committee thought of the skating pond plan, and it was met with support from the club. The little spring-fed stream that originally furnished water for the Schmidt pond, was again dammed, with a sluice gate at its outlet under the railroad embankment.

S. M. McKay, member of the committee, and W. F. Foster, Dayton engineer, who does the engineering for Xenia City, donated their services in determining the topography of the section. They discovered that the natural lowlands could be easily flooded leaving plenty of room within the parking area, without encroaching upon the subdivisions in which lots have been sold. The topographical map showed that the land lends itself admirably also, to the original plan of Mr. Dadds, for a summer lagoon, with room for grassy shores and park benches.

The flooded section is only three feet deep over its greatest area, and where it reaches the depth of six feet near the dam, the pond will be fenced off from skaters, in order to eliminate danger. The Kiwanis Club has obtained the services of a man to watch the lagoon during the skating periods when a fee of ten cents will be charged to skaters for as long a period as they wish to skate, the fees to pay the man in charge. The pond guardian will also inspect the ice each day and watch over the youngsters who are skating.

With the development of the lagoon plans, the club has not abandoned its original idea for a swimming pool, according to T. H. Zel, who with Ed S. Davidson, D. D. Jones and S. M. McKay, compose the committee. The lagoon itself is unfit for swimming, as it is not deep enough over a large enough area and has a mud bottom. If plans for an outdoor swimming pool mature, they will have to be realized in the shape of a cement reservoir built east of the lagoon and adjacent to the new Cox Memorial Athletic field, where the athletic buildings would furnish dressing rooms for bathers. The project, Kiwanians say, cannot be carried out by the club without outside assistance but in the belief that the public will back such a move, club members say the consummation of the project is not remote. In case it should be carried out next summer, it is proposed to have a man in charge at all times, and charge a small swimming fee to pay that expense. The skating lagoon will be open to the public and if the weather furnishes the ice, will, it is thought prove to be a popular resort.

NOTED LECTURER WILL APPEAR HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY

Dr. Charles A. Payne, extension lecturer of the University of Minnesota, will give one of his famous illustrated travel lectures at City Hall Theater, next Wednesday evening, January 17 under the auspices of the public schools.

Proceeds of the lecture will be used in furnishing scenery and stage settings for the new high school auditorium, so that it can be used for the graduation exercises of the class of 1923 of Central High School, according to announcement of Superintendent C. A. Waltz.

Dr. Payne is known as a student, whose laboratory is the wide world. For 20 years he has been a student among 40 nations. He goes alone, lives with the natives, seeks their best and makes friends everywhere.

During 25 years Dr. Payne has been a lecturer. He has been a special lecturer for the Boards of Education of the cities of Milwaukee, Des Moines and New York, and for state normal schools and teachers' institutes, giving over 500 lectures. He has been University Extension Lecturer for the State University of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, North Dakota, Colorado, State College of Washington and National University Extension Association of Washington D. C., in fourteen states, giving 596 lectures.

He has lectured for 'Chautauques', giving a total of 1,054,433 for the Reel-path Bureau, and was nine times recalled to Chautauqua, N. Y. He has lectured to the soldiers 127 times and has delivered over 4,000 lectures for schools, colleges, churches, Rotaries, Kiwanians, Chambers of Commerce, and clubs in 37 states and foreign countries from Hawaii to Constantinople.

Dr. Payne's lecture will probably be "America A World Nation," illustrated with 100 pictures. He will give a matinee lecture for the teachers and pupils of the elementary schools only.

Iowa Physician Makes Startling Offer To Catarrh Sufferers

Found Treatment Which Healed His Own Catarrh and Now Offers To Send It Free To Sufferers Anywhere.

Davenport, Iowa.—Dr. W. O. Coffee, suite 834 St. James Hotel Bldg., this city, one of the most widely known physicians and surgeons in the central west, announces that he found a treatment which completely healed him of catarrh in the head and nose, deafness and head noises after many years of suffering. He then gave the treatment to a number of sufferers and they state that they also were completely healed. The doctor is so proud of his achievement and so confident that his treatment will bring other sufferers the same freedom it gave him, that he is offering to send a ten days' supply absolutely free to any reader of this paper who writes him. Dr. Coffee has specialized on eye, ear, nose and throat diseases for more than 25 years and is honored and respected by countless thousands. If you suffer from nose, head or throat catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises, send him your name and address today. Adv.

ity are planning a program and play to be given in a few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hartsock of the State Road have purchased the Bain property.

RED PEPPER HEAT ENDS RHEUMATISM

The heat of red peppers takes the "ouch" from a sore, lame back. It can not hurt you, and it certainly ends the torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub, and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.

NOT A MIRACLE MAN, EMILE COUE SAYS.

Mr. Emile Coue, the rugged little ex-druggist comes to America from a modest clinic up a side street in Nancy with a new French message of peace. It is "ca passe," meaning the passing of sickness and pain under the gentle spell of auto-suggestion.

"Statement issued by M. Emile Coue on arrival in America: "There are two things uppermost in my mind to say to the people of the United States upon my arrival in your wonder city of New York. One is that I share in common with all those who come here for the first time the thrill of being in America, of meeting your people and of seeing with my own eyes such abundant evidence of your greatness. The other is that I come not as a miracle man, but as the humble bearer of a useful message; not as a doctor, but as one who would be a teacher and help mankind in a practical way.

"Much has been said about the method for self-betterment which I advocate and which I endeavor to teach to others; but it is so very easy to pass over the invisible line into sensationalism and to bring discredit to an otherwise sound and unassuming theory that I would like to make special appeal at the very beginning that my aim in coming here, my program for explaining my work and my efforts to demonstrate my methods, be not misunderstood.

"I bring no change to the great profession of medicine or of surgery, and I make no claim in contravention to the basic ideas of any religious faith. I have never cured anybody of any ailment in my life and have never made such a claim. I am not going to cure anybody on this trip. That is impossible. If, however, I can succeed, as I have done many times in the past, in helping others so to understand themselves and exercise their minds that they can improve their physical condition and achieve better health and happiness, then I shall have lived up to the full letter and spirit of the only claims I have ever made.

"Self-mastery through conscious auto-suggestion is the full limit of my message. There is no mystery attached to it or to myself."

THE LEAGUE A DEAD ISSUE.

Some Washington correspondents who were particularly friendly to President Wilson during his administration send stories to their papers in which they see Wilson as the leader of the Democratic party in 1924 and the revived League of Nations as the issue. It is difficult to see how the most ardent advocate of the league can gain any crumbs of comfort from the last election.

The League of Nations as a political issue is dead. It was an issue in 1920 and it was defeated by a majority of approximately 7,000,000. It was buried deep under an avalanche of disapproval. If ever there was a chance for the league to succeed as an issue it was then. The whole world was war-weary. But the league failed of approval.

What are the conditions today? The league is in existence in Europe, but it has failed. It was designed to keep peace in the world, yet Europe is standing with her hand on the trigger ready to fire. It has failed to solve the economic problems of Europe. We have seen that were we full members of the league we would be hopelessly involved in the Near East tangle. There are more arguments against the League of Nations today than there were in 1920.

A GOOD PLACE TO PUT MONEY.

It is never difficult to find a place to put money, but one of the best possible places to put it is the canceling of debts. The bulk of the world's business is done on credit, and when settlement time comes around it means prosperity, provided settlement is made.

If every dollar that is owed were paid up there would be hundreds of thousands of dollars available for improvement and development work. Our merchants could carry larger stocks if all accounts were wiped off their books, and these larger stocks would draw a greater volume of business from a larger territory. They could make alterations and improvements in their stores, or erect new business blocks.

In every line of business the settlement of accounts would be a great stimulus to business, and the general public would benefit through the improvements made and through the lower prices at which commodities could be sold if accounts were paid up, interest stopped and discounts taken.

The best investment you can make for your own good and for the good of the community is to pay up all your debts.

NEW TIMES, NEW FACTS.

Professor See, government astronomer at Mare Island, Cal., has announced his discovery of the causes of gravitation and magnetism. Both, he says, are the product of long ether waves travelling through space as rapidly as those of light. He finds that both forces, commonly supposed to pull in straight lines, pull by vertical or spinning action instead. He has proved also that the whole magnetic system of earth has been pushed southward 200 miles by bodily displacement of the magnetic poles.

These discoveries will not have any immediately revolutionary effect on family or national life, but they are important just the same. Nobody can foretell in what way their practical application may aid humanity. Vital in themselves, they are equally important in showing, as the professor points out, that "physical discovery is no more exhausted today than geographical and oceanic discovery was before Columbus's first voyage." There is still unlimited field for investigation and discovery and application of their results to the use of mankind.

The constant evidence of science that old orders change and that facts long accepted in the physical and scientific world have to be discarded should encourage men to understand how like changes do and should come in human relations with increased knowledge and understanding.

WE DON'T MIND 'EM.

The world is full of grouches, and usually they are so narrow between the eyes you couldn't insert the sharp point of a screw driver to pry them apart. A newspaper comes in contact with probably more of these misfits than any other institution.

There is a possibility of something like one million errors in a newspaper column, and all newspapers make errors—and there's where the grouch gets in his work.

A newspaper may go on for years printing complimentary stories about one of these distorted mentalities and be the best newspaper in the world. But just let it spell his name wrong, once and lightning strikes the telephone, the editor is blown up, the reporters are pronounced imbeciles, the printers are incompetent, the inventor of the linotype was a plain fool, and the proof reader ought to be shot immediately.

All kinds of people are required to make up this old world, and of course there must be a quota of conceited grouches who do not love themselves or anybody else and for whom no one has any respect or regard.

HIST! MEN, THE ASSESSOR IS ON HIS ROUNDS

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The cold wave which struck Xenia, is causing a heavy demand to be made upon the coal dealers of the city who are experiencing the greatest difficulty in getting a supply of the black diamonds. Dealers are quoting their soft coal at five dollars a ton. The local dealers place the blame of the high price of the coal on the mine owners.

Railroads and traction lines had a sorry time yesterday. The snow which fell on Saturday night was wet and clinging and the blustery day made it one of the most disagreeable of the winter. One car on the Rapid Transit was five hours and ten minutes in making the trip and getting through Dayton.

The High School basketball players blossomed out in their new suits at the Y. M. C. A. gym. last night and attracted much attention in their white trousers.

Messrs. Howard and George Little, who have been visiting in Kansas City, St. Louis, and several other western cities on business for the past week, returned home this morning.

DARKENING EYELASHES

The trouble with most eyelashes is not that they are too short or too thin, but that the color does not extend far enough down the individual hairs.

If you think that you have been slighted by Nature in this matter take up a hand mirror and examine your eyelashes closely. You'll find that each hair grows quite a fair fraction of an inch beyond the point where the color stops. So what you need is, temporarily, an artificial color, and for permanent beauty a stimulant to increase the amount of real color.

For temporary use, try this:—

- 1 drachm Peroxide of manganese.
- 1 drachm water.
- 2 drachms glycerine.

This makes a tiny bottleful of inky looking fluid, which should be shaken up a bit first and then applied to the lashes with a camel's hair brush—a fine, small one sold in artist's supply stores.

It is quite harmless, all it does is to make the lashes very dark. It any gets on the skin, it can be washed off, and all the stain can be washed off when the face is bathed. It's not noticeable, like an eyebrow pencil, and a little easier to handle.

Here's something to make them long and thick:

- Cocoa butter ..... 1 drachm
- Parawax ..... 4 drachms
- Lanoline ..... 4 drachms
- Oil of sweet almonds ..... 4 drachms
- Rose oil (or any perfume) 2 drops

This is very nourishing, very thick, and sometimes must be warmed a bit before it will rub in well.

It can be used on the eyebrows too, if you wish.

Eleanore A. T.—In a well proportioned figure, the bust measure and that of the hips will be about the same, with ten inches less for the waist measure. This will not apply to young girls who are just maturing for they frequently have either too little or too much development of the bust. This condition is usually but a temporary phase in their growth and a few more years finds them in correct proportions.

John Frederick—stuttering is sometimes cured by a course in elocution—if not an actual cure it will be some what relieved. If this does not help you, consult a specialist. It is possible now to cure almost any case of stuttering with very little expense and treatment.

MR. CHAS. L. BIETIE, Columbus, O.

Well-Known Columbus Man Recovers His Health After Suffering from Stomach Trouble and Rheumatism for a Long Time.

Mr. Charles L. Bietie, who lives at 122 E. Fulton Street, Columbus, employed at Holzman's & Sons' piano factory for the past twenty-two years, is very much pleased over his experience with Ka-di-ok. In a signed statement recently received, he says: "I was in very poor health due to stomach trouble and rheumatism. After eating I seldom escaped having an attack of indigestion, as my food seemed to ferment, causing gas and bloating pains on my stomach. Quite frequently I had dizzy spells and would feel faint and ready to keel over. I doctored myself continually but failed to get better until I took Ka-di-ok, which helped me after the first few days. I have taken all told, four bottles and I am now in better health than I have been for years; it is certainly a wonderful remedy and I want others to know about it. Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xenia.

FAT OR LEAN.

I was loaded down with lard, and had lost my pristine grace; I was much the fattest bard to be seen around the place; and the diet doctors said, "You are much too richly fed; you must live on graham bread and raw turnips for a space. Drastic rules you must obey—if you'd have a slender form; you must walk twelve miles a day, in the sunshine or the storm; you must fire your fancy cook and drink water from the brook, and be guided by our book, which is full of by-laws warm." So I cut out all the grub that had made me large and fat, and ate mashies from a tub, and drank water from a vat; and the tallows seemed to melt underneath my snowy pelt, and quite willowy I felt, for a while, and that is that. But my dreams were all of steaks when at night I closed my eyes, and by day I thought of cakes and of large and stately pies; and I yearned for Irish stew and for chops and cutlets too, and my longings grew and grew till they reached a beastly size. So at last I rose and said, "Beauty isn't worth the cost; slaw and hay and sawdust bread as a diet are a frost; I shall eat the things I wish, roasted turkeys, beans and fish, every succulent, tempting dish, though my shapeliness be lost." So the lard is coming back, I am fat, who once was lean; but I'm singing in my shack, I'm as happy as a queen; let Apollo strut around. let Narcissus paw the ground, I shall evermore be found where the gorgeous grub is seen.

Today's Talk

HOW CAN I GET ALONG WITH PEOPLE

I get along very well, and happily, with all my friends and associates. This is a much more remarkable statement than it, at first would seem.

The fact is that I am not any too easy to get along with!

I learned this fact a long time ago, and decided that I would make my friends a very glad and glorious asset. And this is the way I do it. I recognize the faults and failings of my friends as akin to my own, and then I dress myself all up in the clothes of an explorer and hunt for the good and lovely qualities in those whom I desire as my friends.

And it works wonderfully.

It is surprising what a little time it takes to cement a warm and enduring friendship, and to make that friendship one of the beautiful possession of this life.

I get along with people by playing their game much of the time, by measuring my own likes and dislikes against theirs.

Often I go out of my way to give others something that I would like very much to have—and to be behold! I get that very thing myself.

I do little criticising. I leave that for someone much wiser than I.

But when I have the opportunity to say something that I think will sparkle a smile or two, I take that opportunity. Why not? Is there anything that spurs the soul like recognition?

conAosired— $Whklje etaoi hrd rd In my heart I "God bless them." In reviewing my own life, I am made aware that luck has sprinkled its stars all along my way.

I get along with people by loving everything good and kind and generous that is within them.

P. R. R. RIFLE RANGE COMES TO XENIA AS CHAMPIONS ARE HERE

Because the Xenia rifle team of the Pennsylvania Railroad holds the championship of this region as well as the Cincinnati Division championship, the Pennsylvania Company, is building an indoor rifle range for the local sharpshooters on property adjacent to the "Y" in the west-end yards.

Although the team represents the Cincinnati Division in all competitive rifle matches, all of its members are from this city. Last year the Xenia team won the championship of western divisions at the rifle shoot held in Richmond, Indiana, and by virtue of the victory won the right to represent the western divisions in meeting the crack teams of the eastern divisions at Altoona, Pa., last fall. In the national event, the Xenia team came off tied for third place honors.

The new shooting gallery being erected by the company, is being constructed from four box cars that were set off at the spot. It will offer a 100-foot range on which the members of the team can keep in practice and improve their form. Although it is for the use of all rifle enthusiasts on the Cincinnati Division, it was located in this city because all members of the divisional championship team are located here.

Members of the team who hope to repeat the western division championship and to win the meeting with the eastern teams this year are Roy J. Alinger, J. C. Denham, T. E. Murray, D. E. Martin, Ed Betts, C. R. McNamee, Roy Jones and Ben E. Vickers.

GIRL WAS CAUSE OF MOB MURDERS

Bastrop, La., Jan. 10.—State attorneys delved into the secrets of the Morehouse parish branch of the Ku Klux Klan in an effort to fix responsibility for the kidnapping and slaying of Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards, victims of black-hooded raiders.

Evidence was produced to show that floggings and deportations had been carried out under the direction of the leader of the parish Klan and that black hoods were part of the regalia used by bands of klansmen on various expeditions.

Captain J. K. Skipwith, recognized leader of the Klan organizations in Morehouse, was named by J. F. Norseworthy, who described himself as a former klansman, as the man who gave orders to the parish organization.

"White hoods and robes were for ceremony, to be worn inside the lodge-room and on parades, but the black hood was for raiding parties," Norseworthy declared.

Norseworthy's testimony reached a climax when he identified a black hood with long hanging apron under the chin, produced by A. V. Coco, state attorney general, as the headgear worn by klansmen on raids.

The testimony carried the narratives for a time beyond the incidents of the actual kidnapping of the two men, to expeditions on which Norseworthy said he was sent to lash and drive several men from Louisiana.

Norseworthy declared himself rated as a former "captain" in the Klan organization.

Half a dozen witnesses testified, men who were taken prisoner or were present at the time Daniel and Richards were kidnapped.

All agreed that the kidnapping was at the hands of a black-hooded mob, armed with rifles, pistols and shotguns. None, however, could identify members of the band.

Another development was an announcement that an anonymous telephone message had been received warning federal investigators conducting an inquiry in conjunction with state officials, that a plot was under way to kidnap Addie May Hamilton, a young woman said to have been forced to leave Morehouse parish by men described as klansmen, and now at her home at Mer Rouge awaiting to be called as a witness in the present hearing. A civilian guard was placed at the Hamilton home.

OPERATION MADE BY USE OF FLASHLIGHT AS POWER GOES OFF

Wiping off a table with a dust cloth, Mrs. E. H. Meathman, 125 W. Second Street, ran a rusty needle in the fleshy part of her right hand, Tuesday afternoon.

The needle imbedded itself three-quarters of an inch in the hand, and then broke off. Mrs. Meathman was taken to McClellan Hospital, where the X-Ray was used to determine the position of the steel and she was given a local anaesthetic preparatory to an operation.

As surgeons were about to begin the operation, the electric lights, which were off on several times late in the afternoon, went off. The surgery was completed with the aid of a flashlight. Mr. Meathman, is manager of the Xenia Branch of the Dayton Power and Light Company which furnishes electric current for this city.

The injury to Mrs. Meathman's hand is not expected to prove serious.

COUPLE CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Faulkner, of Port William, was celebrated at the home of their grand daughter, Mrs. Leslie Johnson, in Starbucktown, Friday, January 5. Those from a distance attending the affair were the Rev. and Mrs. John Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Belt, of Dayton; Mrs. Morris Simms, and Mr. John Riley, of Xenia. Those from the Starbucktown vicinity, were Mr. and Mrs. Harper DeVoe, and daughter, Reva; Miss Alma Faulkner, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cotherman and daughter, Mary Louise; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Johnson, and son, Frank William; Mrs. Sarah Hite, Mrs. A. R. Read, and Mrs. Wilson.

At the noon hour

the Rev. Mr. Burnett, as spokesman of the assembled guests, expressed to his sister, the bride of fifty years ago, and her husband, the pleasure all enjoyed in being present, and presented them a number of valuable gifts, contributed by the relatives of the couple. A delicious dinner was served, the table being centered with a large wedding cake, the table decorations being carried out in gold and white.

The afternoon

was spent in renewing old acquaintances and making new ones. A group picture of the guests was taken, the day closing with devotional exercises by the Rev. Mr. Reed, and the Rev. Mr. Burnett.

ENJOYABLE MEETING OF WESTMINSTER GUILD

MASONIC CLUB TO STAGE BIG SOCIAL MEETING THURSDAY

Members of the Xenia Masonic Club are preparing for the first and probably the largest social meeting of the club year of 1923, which will be held at the Masonic Hall, Thursday night, January 11.

A chicken dinner will be served at six o'clock, which will be followed by the feature of the evening, the appearance of Garfield B. McClellan, director of music at the National Cash Register Company of Dayton, who will give vocal numbers illustrated by stereopticon views.

A number of Dayton men will accompany Mr. McClellan to the meeting, including Wayne G. Lee, director of finance of the City of Dayton, who will be one of the speakers of the evening. Oscar P. Gilmore, who is well known in this city, will introduce the members of the visiting delegation. F. J. Bloese, prominent member of the Delco company of Dayton, will also be a member of the party.

The Masonic Club, is rapidly growing, according to a club official, Wednesday, and is taking into its membership, any Mason in good standing. The meeting Thursday night is for club members only, the dinner to be served free. The club membership numbers between 150 and 200 Masons.

In the Courts

HUSBAND WANTS DIVORCE

John W. Stillwell charges that his wife refused to leave her mother and live with him in his petition for divorce from Ina Stillwell in Common Pleas Court. The couple was married July 18, 1922. After the marriage, they lived with the defendant's mother, the petition reads, but later the plaintiff alleges he rented and furnished a house for their occupancy but that his wife refused to live with him.

WIFE GRANTED SEPARATION

Bertha Dettie has been granted a divorce in Common Pleas Court from Van Buren Dettie on the grounds of gross neglect of duty, and has been awarded custody of their child, Neal Dettie.

TWO SALES APPROVED

Sale of property involved in the case of Lucy Allen, and others, against Arthur Hamilton, to Roy Matthews, for $1678, has been approved in Common Pleas Court. The sale of property involved in the case of Maggie Bledsaw against Joseph Bundy, and others, to Zachariah W. Lett, for $950 has also been approved in Common Pleas Court.

PLAINTIFF GETS JUDGMENT

W. H. Rockhold has been awarded judgment, including interest, amounting to $1689.24 against T. B. Frame and A. R. Frame, on a promissory note case in Common Pleas Court.

INHERITANCE TAX FIXED

Inheritance tax of $285.09 will be paid on the estate of Ida C. Woolsey, by Adda R. Oglesbee, the only beneficiary. The net value of the estate was $4,072.61, and the successor of not allowed exemption, there being no relationship.

The following dishes will soon be mentioned in some of the menus appearing daily at the top of this column:

Popovers: One cup of sweet milk two eggs (put in the milk without beating), one scant cup of bread flour and a pinch of salt. Stir all together until smooth and without lumps, then turn into a buttered muffin pan and bake 25 minutes in a hot oven. Do not open the oven door during the first 15 minutes of baking.

Maitre D'Hotel Sauce for Baked Fish: One-fourth pound of butter, one small onion finely chopped, the juice of one lemon and two tablespoons of chopped parsley. Put these four ingredients on the stove to simmer for 10 minutes. Serve very hot.

Baked Fish and Celery: Cook one cup of diced celery in one cup of sweet milk in the top of a double boiler; when tender, strain the milk from the celery, and cool both milk and celery. Now put into a small saucepan two tablespoons of butter, and when this has melted over a mild fire, stir into it one and one-half tablespoons of flour; mix to a smooth paste, add the strained cooled milk and let the mixture boil up once or twice; then add the cooked celery, one-half teaspoon of salt, a dash of pepper and one cup (or a little less) of cooked left-over fish of any kind. Turn the mixture into a buttered baking dish and cover the top with finely diced bread, using two pieces of buttered bread to make these croutons. Slip the dish into a hot oven to remain till warmed through and the croutons well browned.

Sponge Muffins: One cup of sweet milk scalded, one-half yeast cake dissolved in one-fourth cup of warm water, three cups of bread flour, two tablespoons of shortening, one small teaspoon of salt and one tablespoon of sugar. Mix the shortening into the flour, add the dissolved yeast and the other ingredients and pour the mixture into greased muffin pans; set the pans in a warm place for four or five hours, when the batter will be raised and light. Then bake in a hot oven for one-half hour. These are delicious.

Each week I shall in this way publish, in advance, recipes for the dishes which coming menus will call for. So clip out these recipes and keep them till the menus appear which call for them.

WALTER MAKES EXCUSES FOR HELEN.

Chapter 74.

"Come, Doreen, don't give way again," Walter said as I started up from the couch with a remark about Helen. "She didn't mean to do anything out of the way. She said she was lonely, thought it would be company for her if she took Jackie, and never thought for a moment we would object."

"She lied! She knew if I were at home I never would let Jack go with her. If you hadn't told her your mother and I were both away she'd never have come near the house."

"She admitted that. Said she knew Jack was with Jennie, that she thought to please him by taking him to ride. She said he was as good as gold, and so happy with her, that she loved him, and couldn't understand our anxiety after Jennie told us he was with her, or your anger at her."

"I hate her! She's a snake. If anything had happened, Jack, I should have killed her I think," I replied. "And you excuse her, as you always do. Can't you see that girl isn't a safe person to know? A girl who will do a thing like that! I wish your mother was here. You'd see she would not be so easy. She has seen through that model of yours from the first."

"Please, Doreen," Grace said in a low voice, as Walter turned away, his anger with me now flushing his face.

I carried Jack from the room and put him to bed. As I undressed and fed my boy I felt that I never would leave him again, never let him out of my sight. I was sure Helen Ralstrom had some sinister motive in telling him, probably to hurt and worry me. I knew she hated me because I saw through her attempts to influence Walter her flirtation with him.

Grace soon left but not until she had cautioned me not to say any more that night.

"I think Walter is almost as much worried as you, only he won't acknowledge it," she said. "It has hurt her with him, and perhaps will, in the end, be a good thing for you. Don't talk of it any more, tonight anyway."

PLOT AGAINST FRENCH STATE IS DISCOVERED

Ring Leaders in Alleged Communist Scheme Are Arrested

MENACED SECURITY

Four Leaders Charged With Agitation Taken Into Custody

Paris, Jan. 10.—A communists plot against the French state was discovered by government agents today. The ring leaders have been arrested.

The communists plot threatened both the internal and external security of France. It was announced following a conference of state officials.

Those taking part in the conference were Minister of Justice Barthou, Minister of Interior Manoury, the prefect of police and the attorney general.

Police raided the offices of the communists newspaper Humanite, seizing quantities of documents.

Four communist leaders, who were charged with anti-French agitations in the Rhineland, were arrested upon their arrival from Essen. They are Monmousseau, Maranne, Pietri and Gourdeaux.

The government will ask the chamber of deputies to vacate Marcel Cachin's parliamentary immunity so as to permit his indictment for conspiracy with the communists. Cachin is a communist member of the chamber. Criminal proceedings were brought against him some time ago but he was saved by the immunity conferred by his membership in the chamber.

GRAND JURY WILL PROBE ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN

Alleged Interest In Last Political Campaign Investigated.

Dayton, O., Jan. 10.—The grand jury, it was announced this morning will immediately proceed with its investigation of the alleged activities of the so-called Ku Klux Klan members in the last campaign.

Specific instructions were given to the grand jurors by Judge R. C. Patterson to go into the circulation of a hand bill the night before and on election day, which attacked three candidates, on the Democratic ticket, who sought judicial positions. The hand bill bore the signature of the Protestant Political Protective Association. So far as is known there is no record of such an organization. The circulation of the attack on the three candidates has been linked up with Ku Klux Klan and it has been repeatedly stated that thirty men of prominence in business circles are involved.

REFUGEES ACCUSE AMERICAN OFFICIAL OF GROSS CRUELTY

Vice Consul at Smyrna is Charged With Inhuman Conduct

New York, Jan. 10.—D. D. Shepard, representative of the state department, arrived here to question survivors of the Smyrna disaster, who arrived on the refugee ship King Alexander, regarding the alleged inhuman conduct of Maynard Barnes, American vice consul, during the burning of Smyrna.

A number of the refugees were said to have declared that American citizens who sought safety under the roof of the Smyrna theater were driven by Mr. Barnes to the streets, where they were killed.

Alexander Kassemis, formerly of Baypoint, Cal., declared he was turned out of the theater to face the Turks, although he had been told by high American officials that anybody could seek refuge in the building. Two days later, Kassemis added, he called on Barnes, seeking aid, but was not recognized.

Kassemis declared that Barnes had turned one man whose passport had expired several days before into the streets, "where the Turks were waiting to slaughter anybody." Another man with two children, he said, was told to keep out.

U.S. Forces Ordered Withdrawn From Rhine

Washington, Jan. 10.—In the face of France's great military thrust into the heart of industrial Germany, a move strongly disapproved by the American government, President Harding today ordered the immediate and complete withdrawal of all American troops now on the Rhine.

While at the State Department, it was said that the administration merely considered that "the time had come" to withdraw the forces, it was evident that the American government was actuated in ordering the withdrawal at this time by the growing seriousness of the European situation, and the summary withdrawal of troops constitutes only a thinly veiled occupation of the Ruhr.

Immediately upon announcement of the American withdrawal, reports became current in Washington that British troops also would be withdrawn. These reports could not be confirmed here, the British embassy disclaiming any knowledge of the matter.

American officials, however, would not be surprised if the British likewise express their disapproval of France's policy by evacuating the Rhineland within a short time.

The order for withdrawal went forward to Major General Henry T. Allen at Coblenz this morning. There is reason to believe that the decision to withdraw was made by President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes following the receipt of reports from Ambassador Myron T. Herrick at Paris and Col. R. W. Boyden, American unofficial observer on the reparations commission, to the effect that nothing can halt the French plans for seizing the Ruhr basin.

The nature of the reports from Ambassador Herrick and Col. Boyden were not made public, and officials declined to discuss them, but the sudden order for military evacuation of the Rhine threw considerable light upon the nature of their observations. President Harding summoned Secretary of War Weeks in person to the White House at 10:30 and gave the order of withdrawal. Weeks announced that the transport St. Mihiel will leave New York today or tomorrow to bring home the entire American contingent now stationed at Coblenz.

Major General Allen and 1,150 men comprising the "army" of occupation will return on the St. Mihiel, and it is probable the movement can be completed within thirty days. Only a handful of Americans will be left on the Rhine to clean up odds and ends incident to the American occupation, and this handful will be left with instructions to complete the work as speedily as possible, in order that the United States may be completely out of Europe within the next six weeks.

Virtually all of the troops now on the Rhine are of the Eighth U. S. Infantry and embrace in addition to the infantrymen, supporting arms such as cavalry, quartermaster, artillery, tank corps and air service contingents.

ON GERMAN SOIL SINCE 1917.

American troops have been upon European soil since June 26, 1917, when the first contingent was landed in France after the United States declared war against Germany. War was declared on April 6, 1917. American troops have held part of the Rhineland since shortly after the armistice was signed, November 11, 1918.

FRENCH MASS TROOPS FOR DRIVE INTO GERMAN RUHR TERRITORY

FIFTY THOUSAND ARE HELD READY IN ALLIED ZONE

Army Officers in Essen Make Arrangements to Billet Their Men

Essen, Jan. 10.—Fifty thousand French troops are being massed in the northern sector of the allied occupation zone for seizure of the Ruhr coal fields and industrial cities, according to information received here today. Forty-nine French troop trains have reached the border of the occupation area, of which 40 have been unloaded.

French army officers have arrived in Essen to arrange for buildings in which French troops will be billeted. They presented a list to the burgomaster as the number of quarters that would be required.

French military and mining supplies are being massed at Kettwig, seven miles from Essen, which was reached by the French advance guard yesterday.

Municipal authorities already have begun to requisition buildings for barracks uses.

Headquarters of the great German coal syndicate, in which Hugo Stinnes is a dominant figure, are being removed from Essen.

Officials of the Krupp works, formerly the chief source of Germany's war supplies announced they would attempt to continue work undisturbed.

Dusseldorf, Jan. 10.—France's army of invasion was held in readiness here today for marching orders from Paris. Members of the French general staff said they expected the advance into Essen to be undertaken either tomorrow morning or Friday.

Some days may elapse before the Ruhr is entered.

The streets swarm with French troops. The hotels are crowded with officers. Military motor cars dash in and out of the city.

All trains are late owing to heavy traffic and the extra number of cars hauled to accommodate the large numbers of troops.

Along the frontier of the occupied zone French soldiers are establishing bivouacs. Arms and munitions depots are being set up. Baby tanks crawl along the muddy roads with machine guns poked from their portholes.

French military authorities have forbidden all traffic of the Dusseldorf-Essen road except what is permitted for military uses.

The superintendent of the Elberfeld railroad has been ordered to stop all freight trains except those bearing food.

TREMENDOUS STEP TOWARD PEACE SEEN

Lausanne, Jan. 10.—A decision to allow the Patriarch of the Greek orthodox church to remain in Constantinople, which Lord Curzon, head of the British delegation described as a "tremendous step towards peace" was taken in the near east peace conference today.

MURDER INDICTMENT QUASHED.

Ravenna, O., Jan. 10.—Indictment charging Mrs. Margaret Carlisle of Kent with first degree murder in the death of her husband, Arthur Carlisle, former sheriff of Portage county, was quashed, Prosecutor Heister announced. Carlisle was shot through the head the night of April 5, 1921, while asleep in the same bed with Mrs. Carlisle, who said she was awakened by the shot and saw a man leap from the bedroom window.

GIRL WAS CAUSE OF MOB MURDERS

Court Huse, Bastrop La., Jan. 10.—The "woman in the case" appeared today at the open hearing on the atrocious "hooded mob" killings of Morehouse parish.

The contrast of characters in this drama of shadows, masks, and murder was only heightened by her appearance. She is Miss Addie May Hamilton, 19-year-old girl of the hills but destined for a spotlight role in the state's drive to punish the inhuman slayers of Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards. Her story has already been told by the International News Service.

In this death struggle between the constitutional government of Louisiana and the "invisible empire" of the Ku Klux Klan, the girl is charged by the Klan and credited by anti-Klans with having precipitated the clash.

KLAN'S LEADER BRANDS CHARGES ENTIRELY FALSE

Captain Skipwith Denies Allegations Of Norsworthy.

Bastrop, La., Jan. 10.—Punctuated with all the ringing oaths of a cavalry trooper, a sweeping repudiation of "Big Jim" Norsworthy's testimony before the open hearing on the "hooded mob" murders, was given International News Service today by Captain J. K. Skipwith, exalted cyclops of the Ku Klux Klan in Morehouse parish.

Captain Skipwith, in an authorized interview, leveled a counter barrage of charges at Norsworthy and explosively denied his accusations that the Klan was responsible for a "reign of terror" in Morehouse parish. The Klan leader branded the state's star "surprise witness" with a "liar", and "traitor" and denied ever having talked to him. Norsworthy's testimony, which involved the Klan, was based chiefly on his alleged experiences as a Klan member and in alleged conversation with Skipwith.

The interview was obtained on the town square where the captain seemed unimpressed of the legal battle being waged a step away in the town Court House. In the long ago, the captain was a trooper in Forrest's confederate cavalry, and he drew upon his martial experiences to emphasize his remarks.

HOUSE DROPS INTO EXCAVATION; 2 HURT

Toledo, Jan. 10.—Two workmen were buried under a mass of debris and a woman and four small children narrowly escaped death or serious injury when a house under which a new basement was being built dropped 13 feet into the excavation. One of the men, unaided, crawled to safety and then rescued his companion and the helpless women and children who were imprisoned in a room on the upper floor.

HOPE FOR LAST MINUTE CHANGE FROM GERMANY

France Will Accept Guarantees From Industrial Magnates

Essen, Jan. 10.—With France massing 50,000 troops in the northern sector of the occupied zone for seizure of the Ruhr and Rhineland industrial belt, war time patriotism flamed up among the Germans here today. Crowds surged through the streets singing "Deutschland uber alles."

There have been no outbreaks despite the appearance here of French officers and the requisition of buildings for French barracks but the people are in a sullen, resentful frame of mind and are determined to do what they can to hinder occupation.

Dissolution of the great Rhineland coal syndicate is a severe blow to French plans for economic exploitation of the Ruhr. The syndicate controlled more than 100 of the most important mines in the district, including those owned by Hugo Stinnes. It now will be necessary for the French to deal with the mine owners individually for purposes of appraising output, number of men at work, payrolls and the like. The books and records were removed from Essen today. They are being shipped to Mannheim.

Paris, Jan. 10.—France and Belgium will notify Germany during the afternoon of their intention of occupying the Ruhr tonight or tomorrow morning, said an official statement issued at 1 o'clock.

While rushing military preparations for occupation of the Ruhr coal fields the French cabinet has been eagerly awaiting proposals from the great German Rhineland industrialists, headed by Hugo Stinnes, which would make such action unnecessary, it was learned from an authoritative source this afternoon. Members of the cabinet are said to be discouraged that such intervention has not been forthcoming, and are blaming Great Britain and the United States for giving "moral encouragement" to the Germans.

The semi-official newspaper Temps bitterly accused England of advising the Germans not to make any counter proposals but to "sit tight."

It is declared here that France's threats have been aimed not so much at the German nation as against the big Rhineland industrialists, who the French believe are the real force behind the Berlin government. French officials had hoped and believed that these German industrialists would make adequate proposals to "buy off" occupation of the Ruhr.

Premier Poincare has kept waiting until the last minute, meanwhile holding open the door for any movement that the German coal and iron magnates might make.

The fundamental principle of sudden surprise in military movements has been ignored.

Premier Poincare delayed 24 hours his notification to Berlin of the measures France intends to take and then, with the excuse that Berlin should have time to apprise the local Ruhr authorities he added a few more hours delay. This postponement, it is believed, was to give the Krupp, Stinnes, Thyssen and Haniel interests time to make a proposition to save their properties.

It is authoritatively learned that the French are willing to consider last-minute guarantees from the German industrialists if they will withdraw the billions of marks which the French think they have hidden in neutral banks and enter into an agreement embodying the following terms: 1—Germans cease boycotting Lorraine. 2—Cease buying iron ore from Sweden. 3—Promise to come to a business agreement with the French steel industry. 4—Promise to assist in stabilization of the mark.

According to the Matin, Germany will be assured that France does not intend to put an overwhelming army in the Ruhr but only sufficient troops to maintain safety of the French mining engineers unless there are hostile incidents making larger forces necessary.

In the meantime members of the cabinet are giving assurances that "pressure will continue progressively stronger until the German industrialists submit."

Coblenz, Jan. 10.—Nine French troop trains, averaging 60 cars each, rolled through Coblenz today bound for the "front."

Some were going to Dusseldorf, where General DeGoutte and General Berthelot have established headquarters; others were bound for Kalschueren.

Twelve troops trains bearing infantry artillery and tanks passed through Coblenz Tuesday and six on Monday.

American officers and men in the German cafes discussed the possibility of withdrawal or the likelihood of fighting in the Ruhr. Germans, who have grown friendly with the Americans, anxiously sought the advice of the Yanks.

LEAGUE IS HANDY MAN OF EUROPE IS BELIEF EXPRESSED

London, Jan. 10.—Take it from Sir Eric Drummond, the League of Nations is the "handy man" of Europe. Sir Eric, who is the general secretary of the League, contends that whenever European nations have a job that looks difficult or disagreeable they "wish it off" on the League. Whether the problem is political, scientific, administrative, executive, humanitarian or financial the practice has grown up of "turning it over to the League."

The League, Sir Eric made it plain, is not complaining. It delights in its tasks and welcomes the burdens imposed upon it.

Modestly the League's secretary advanced the claim that every problem that has been submitted to the organization for adjustment, except one, has been straightened out or is in the process of solution. The one exception is the Vilna dispute.

"We were unable to bring about an adjustment of the Vilna matter," Sir Eric said, "but the intervention of the League undoubtedly averted a situation that might have had very serious results."

Disputes Settled

Two political disputes which Sir Eric claims have been satisfactorily settled by the League are those involving the Aland Islands and Albania. Both of these controversies, he declares, had possibilities "fully as pregnant with disaster as was the dispute which brought on the European War."

The League takes great credit to itself, its secretary declares, for obtaining guarantees designed to preserve the independence of Austria.

Financially speaking, Sir Eric contends, the League has demonstrated its ability. The commission of the League which is governing the Saar Basin has a surplus in its budget—a situation few European governments can duplicate.

One of the immediate plans of the League involves a customs conference to be held under the auspices of the economic committee, which will be asked to draw up uniform customs regulations designed to help the flow of trade between nations. This conference will be held at Geneva in the near future.

Aids Disarmament

The League also intends to take a hand in the movement for disarmament, according to Sir Eric. It has been proposed that a commission be appointed to draw up a detailed plan for disarmament to be presented to the next assembly of the League. The question of the extension of the Washington naval armament treaties to nations that were not represented at the Washington conferences also is to be discussed at the next meeting of the League council.

The humanitarian work of the League at present is centering around the fight to stamp out with evils of opium and cocaine. The opium question is a difficult one, Sir Eric admits but the cocaine problem is not insoluble.

"If the League is properly supported by the nations of the world," Sir Eric said, "it can stamp out the cocaine evil in five years. All that is necessary is to establish a system of controlling production by the licensing and strict regulation of factories producing the drug."

Although America has rejected membership in the League it has not entirely held aloof from the activities of the organization, Sir Eric said. The first official connection of the United States with the League came with the appointment of a representative of the American government on the commission set up by the League to consider means of preventing the spread of anthrax. More recently the United States Government has named a representative to the League's advisory committee established to consider problems arising out of the "white slave" traffic.

The question of the admission of Turkey to the League, which has arisen as a result of the Near East Conference at Lausanne, will have to be decided by the assembly of the League at its regular meeting next September. If the matter became urgent, however, Sir Eric said that the League council which meets in January, has the power to call a special meeting of the assembly to consider the question.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare, and really there is nothing better for coughs. Into a pint bottle, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup. Instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

THIRTEEN REASONS FOR 13-CENT STAMP ARE BEING OFFERED

Washington, Jan. 10.—Citing 13 reasons why the Post Office Department should issue a 13 cent stamp, and declaring the entire history of the United States is bound up in the figures 13, 26 students, just twice 13, of the Shepherd College, State Normal of West Virginia, petitioned Postmaster General Work to authorize issuance of a 13 cent stamp.

Not only should a 13 cent stamp be issued, the students avowed, but the design on it should commemorate the 13 colonies which originally constituted the United States.

The 13 reasons for issuing a 13 cent stamp were stated in the petition as follows:

- 1—America was discovered on the eve of the thirteenth of the month.
- 2—The original Republic consisted of thirteen colonies.
- 3—The first official flag had thirteen stripes and thirteen stars.
- 4—Our national emblem, the American Eagle, requires thirteen letters to spell it; also does our motto, "E pluribus unum."

5—The first word to pass over the Atlantic cable was sent on the thirteenth day of the month.

6—Our silver quarter is written all over with thirteen. Around the head of Liberty are thirteen stars. The eagle bears an olive branch, with 13 leaves, in one claw and thirteen thunderbolts in the other. On his breast is a shield bearing thirteen bars and from his beak is a ribbon bearing the motto with thirteen letters. Each wing has thirteen feathers, and it takes thirteen letters to spell "quarter dollar."

7—There are thirteen letters in John Paul Jones' name.

8—There were thirteen ships in the First American navy.

9—Perry's victory on Lake Erie was won on the thirteenth day of the month.

10—The Stars and Stripes were raised over Fort Sumter on the thirteenth of the month.

11—General Pershing reached France on June, the thirteenth, 1917.

12—The thirteenth amendment to our constitution freed the country of slavery.

13—It would not cost any more to make a thirteen cent stamp than any other one.

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells. That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells! This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many men because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1822, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Hollow cheeks fall out. You stop being a calvary looker. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firm, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a peppy, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. It contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

SKATING POND NOW AWAITS WEATHERMAN KIWANIS ANNOUNCE

It is up to the weather man if Xenia lovers of ice skating are going to have opportunity for this winter sport.

Members of the Kiwanis Club have provided the pond within the city limits with the completion of their lagoon in the Dadds addition, and if Old Man Winter furnishes some freezing weather the ice-skaters dreams will be realized.

As a result of club action, two acres of water where the H. E. Schmidt ice pond was formerly located will be ready for skating any time it is cold enough to freeze the ice solid. Although the workmen have not completed their job of cleaning out the artificial lagoon, the work has been completed near enough to provide skating it is said.

The lagoon is located east of the Pennsylvania Railroad in the Dadds addition, adjacent to what will eventually be Detroit boulevard, and within the tract set off for a park by F. W. Dadds, who developed the tract, and represents the consummation of Mr. Dadds' original plan to flood the area for a lagoon.

Kiwanis Club members originally planned to build an outdoor swimming pool in that section, when the suggestion was first made last summer. Investigation by a committee showed that the expense would be great and as winter was approaching, the plan was dropped. Later the committee thought of the skating pond plan, and it was met with support from the club. The little spring-fed stream that originally furnished water for the Schmidt pond, was again dammed, with a sluice gate at its outlet under the railroad embankment.

S. M. McKay, member of the committee, and W. F. Foster, Dayton engineer, who does the engineering for Xenia City, donated their services in determining the topography of the section. They discovered that the natural lowlands could be easily flooded leaving plenty of room within the parking area, without encroaching upon the subdivisions in which lots have been sold. The topographical map showed that the land lends itself admirably also, to the original plan of Mr. Dadds, for a summer lagoon, with room for grassy shores and park benches.

The flooded section is only three feet deep over its greatest area, and where it reaches the depth of six feet near the dam, the pond will be fenced off from skaters, in order to eliminate danger. The Kiwanis Club has obtained the services of a man to watch the lagoon during the skating periods when a fee of ten cents will be charged to skaters for as long a period as they wish to skate, the fees to pay the man in charge. The pond guardian will also inspect the ice each day and watch over the youngsters who are skating.

With the development of the lagoon plans, the club has not abandoned its original idea for a swimming pool, according to T. H. Zel, who with Ed S. Davidson, D. D. Jones and S. M. McKay, compose the committee. The lagoon itself is unfit for swimming, as it is not deep enough over a large enough area and has a mud bottom. If plans for an outdoor swimming pool mature, they will have to be realized in the shape of a cement reservoir built east of the lagoon and adjacent to the new Cax Memorial Athletic field, where the athletic buildings would furnish dressing rooms for bathers. The project, Kiwanians say, cannot be carried out by the club without outside assistance but in the belief that the public will back such a move, club members say the consummation of the project is not remote, in case it should be carried out next summer, it is proposed to have a man in charge at all times, and charge a small swimming fee to pay that expense. The skating lagoon will be open to the public and if the weather furnishes the ice, will, it is thought prove to be a popular resort.

NOTED LECTURER WILL APPEAR HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY

Dr. Charles A. Payne, extension lecturer of the University of Minnesota, will give one of his famous illustrated travel lectures at City Hall Theater, next Wednesday evening, January 17 under the auspices of the public schools.

Proceeds of the lecture will be used in furnishing scenery and stage settings for the new high school auditorium, so that it can be used for the graduation exercises of the class of 1923 of Central High School, according to announcement of Superintendent C. A. Waltz.

Dr. Payne is known as a student, whose laboratory is the wide world. For 30 years he has been a student among 40 nations. He goes alone, lives with the natives, seeks their best and makes friends everywhere.

During 25 years Dr. Payne has been a lecturer. He has been a special lecturer for the Boards of Education of the cities of Milwaukee, Des Moines and New York, and for state normal schools and teachers' institutes, giving over 500 lectures. He has been University Extension Lecturer for the State University of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, North Dakota, Colorado, State College of Washington and National University Extension Association of Washington D. C., in fourteen states, giving 596 lectures.

He has lectured for Chautauquas, giving a total of 1,054,433 for the Redpath Bureau, and was nine times recalled to Chautauqua, N. Y. He has lectured to the soldiers 127 times and has delivered over 4,000 lectures for schools, colleges, churches, Rotarians, Kiwanians, Chambers of Commerce and clubs in 37 states and foreign countries from Hawaii to Constantinople.

Dr. Payne's lecture will probably be "America A World Nation," illustrated with 100 pictures. He will give a matinee lecture for the teachers and pupils of the elementary schools only.

Iowa Physician Makes Startling Offer To Catarrh Sufferers

Found Treatment Which Healed His Own Catarrh and Now Offers To Send It Free To Sufferers Anywhere.

Davenport, Iowa.—Dr. W. O. Coffee, suite 534 St. James Hotel Bldg., this city, one of the most widely known physicians and surgeons in the central west, announces that he found a treatment which completely healed him of catarrh in the head and nose, deafness and head noises after many years of suffering. He then gave the treatment to a number of sufferers and they state that they also were completely healed. The doctor is so proud of his achievement and so confident that his treatment will bring other sufferers the same freedom it gave him, that he is offering to send a ten days' supply absolutely free to any reader of this paper who writes him. Dr. Coffee has specialized on eye, ear, nose and throat diseases for more than 25 years and is honored and respected by countless thousands. If you suffer from nose, head or throat catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises, send him your name and address today.—Adv.

RED PEPPER HEAT ENDS RHEUMATISM

The heat of red peppers takes the "ouch" from a sore, lame back. It can not hurt you, and it certainly ends the torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub, and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.

NOT A MIRACLE MAN, EMILE COUE SAYS.

Mr. Emile Coue, the rugged little ex-druggist comes to America from a modest clinic up a side street in Nancy with a new French message of peace. It is "ca passe," meaning the passing of sickness and pain under the gentle spell of auto-suggestion.

"Statement issued by M. Emile Coue on arrival in America: "There are two things uppermost in my mind to say to the people of the United States upon my arrival in your wonder city of New York. One is that I share in common with all those who come here for the first time the thrill of being in America, of meeting your people and of seeing with my own eyes such abundant evidence of your greatness. The other is that I come not as a miracle man, but as the humble bearer of a useful message; not as a doctor, but as one who would be a teacher and help mankind in a practical way.

"Much has been said about the method for self-betterment which I advocate and which I endeavor to teach to others; but it is so very easy to pass over the invisible line into sensationalism and to bring discredit to an otherwise sound and unassuming theory that I would like to make special appeal at the very beginning that my aim in coming here, my program for explaining my work and my efforts to demonstrate my methods, be not misunderstood.

"I bring no change to the great profession of medicine or of surgery, and I make no claim in contravention to the basic ideas of any religious faith. I have never cured anybody of any ailment in my life and have never made such a claim. I am not going to cure anybody on this trip. That is impossible. If, however, I can succeed, as I have done many times in the past, in helping others so to understand themselves and exercise their minds that they can improve their physical condition and achieve better health and happiness, then I shall have lived up to the full letter and spirit of the only claims I have ever made.

"Self-mastery through conscious auto-suggestion is the full limit of my message. There is no mystery attached to it or to myself."

THE LEAGUE A DEAD ISSUE.

Some Washington correspondents who were particularly friendly to President Wilson during his administration send stories to their papers in which they see Wilson as the leader of the Democratic party in 1924 and the revived League of Nations as the issue. It is difficult to see how the most ardent advocate of the league can gain any crumbs of comfort from the last election.

The League of Nations as a political issue is dead. It was an issue in 1920 and it was defeated by a majority of approximately 7,000,000. It was buried deep under an avalanche of disapproval. If ever there was a chance for the league to succeed as an issue it was then. The whole world was war-weary. But the league failed of approval.

What are the conditions today? The league is in existence in Europe, but it has failed. It was designed to keep peace in the world, yet Europe is standing with her hand on the trigger ready to fire. It has failed to solve the economic problems of Europe. We have seen that were we full members of the league we would be hopelessly involved in the Near East tangle. There are more arguments against the League of Nations today than there were in 1920.

A GOOD PLACE TO PUT MONEY.

It is never difficult to find a place to put money, but one of the best possible places to put it is the canceling of debts. The bulk of the world's business is done on credit, and when settlement time comes around it means prosperity, provided settlement is made.

If every dollar that is owed were paid up there would be hundreds of thousands of dollars available for improvement and development work. Our merchants could carry larger stocks if all accounts were wiped off their books, and these larger stocks would draw a greater volume of business from a larger territory. They could make alterations and improvements in their stores, or erect new business blocks.

In every line of business the settlement of accounts would be a great stimulus to business, and the general public would benefit through the improvements made and through the lower prices at which commodities could be sold if accounts were paid up, interest stopped and discounts taken.

The best investment you can make for your own good and for the good of the community is to pay up all your debts.

NEW TIMES, NEW FACTS.

Professor See, government astronomer at Mare Island, Cal., has announced his discovery of the causes of gravitation and magnetism. Both, he says, are the product of long ether waves travelling through space as rapidly as those of light. He finds that both forces, commonly supposed to pull in straight lines, pull by vertical or spinning action instead. He has proved also that the whole magnetic system of earth has been pushed southward 200 miles by bodily displacement of the magnetic poles.

These discoveries will not have any immediately revolutionary effect on family or national life, but they are important just the same. Nobody can foretell in what way their practical application may aid humanity. Vital in themselves, they are equally important in showing, as the professor points out, that "physical discovery is no more exhausted today than geographical and oceanic discovery was before Columbus's first voyage." There is still unlimited field for investigation and discovery and application of their results to the use of mankind.

The constant evidence of science that old orders change and that facts long accepted in the physical and scientific world have to be discarded should encourage men to understand how like changes do and should come in human relations with increased knowledge and understanding.

WE DON'T MIND 'EM.

The world is full of grouches, and usually they are so narrow between the eyes you couldn't insert the sharp point of a screw driver to pry them apart. A newspaper comes in contact with probably more of these misfits than any other institution.

There is a possibility of something like one million errors in a newspaper column, and all newspapers make errors—and there's where the grouch gets in his work.

A newspaper may go on for years printing complimentary stories about one of these distorted mentalities and be the best newspaper in the world. But just let it spell his name wrong, once and lightning strikes the telephone, the editor is blown up, the reporters are pronounced imbeciles, the printers are incompetent, the inventor of the linotype was a plain fool, and the proof reader ought to be shot immediately.

All kinds of people are required to make up this old world, and of course there must be a quota of conceited grouches who do not love themselves or anybody else and for whom no one has any respect or regard.

HIST! MEN, THE ASSESSOR IS ON HIS ROUNDS

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The cold wave which struck Xenia, is causing a heavy demand to be made upon the coal dealers of the city who are experiencing the greatest difficulty in getting a supply of the black diamonds. Dealers are quoting their soft coal at five dollars a ton. The local dealers place the blame of the high price of the coal on the mine owners.

Railroads and traction lines had a sorry time yesterday. The snow which fell on Saturday night was wet and clinging and the blustery day made it one of the most disagreeable of the winter. One car on the Rapid Transit was five hours and ten minutes in making the trip and getting through Dayton.

The High School basketball players blossomed out in their new suits at the Y. M. C. A. gym last night and attracted much attention in their white trousers. Messrs. Howard and George Little, who have been visiting in Kansas City, St. Louis, and several other western cities on business for the past week, returned home this morning.

DARKENING EYELASHES
The trouble with most eyelashes is not that they are too short or too thin, but that the color does not extend far enough down the individual hairs.

If you think that you have been slighted by Nature in this matter take up a hand mirror and examine your eyelashes closely. You'll find that each hair grows quite a fair fraction of an inch beyond the point where the color stops. So what you need is, temporarily, an artificial color, and for permanent beauty a stimulant to increase the amount of real color.

For temporary use, try this:—

EYELASH STAIN
1 drachm Peroxide of manganese,
1 drachm water,
2 drachms glycerine.

This makes a tiny bottleful of inky looking fluid, which should be shaken up a bit first and then applied to the lashes with a camel's hair brush—a fine, small one sold in artist's supply stores.

It is quite harmless, all it does is to make the lashes very dark. It any gets on the skin, it can be washed off, and all the stain can be washed off when the face is bathed. It's not noticeable, like an eyebrow pencil, and a little easier to handle.

Here's something to make them long and thick:

Cocoa butter ..... 1 drachm
Paraffin ..... 4 drachms
Lanolin ..... 1/2 drachm
Oil of sweet almonds ..... 4 drachms
Rose oil (or any perfume) 2 drops
This is very nourishing, very thick, and sometimes must be warmed a bit before it will rub in well.

It can be used on the eyebrows too, if you wish.

Eleanor A. T.—In a well proportioned figure, the bust measure and that of the hips will be about the same, with ten inches less for the waist measure. This will not apply to young girls who are just maturing for they frequently have either too little or too much development of the bust. This condition is usually but a temporary phase in their growth and a few more years finds them in correct proportions.

John Frederick—stuttering is sometimes cured by a course in elocution—if not an actual cure it will be some what relieved. If this does not help you, consult a specialist. It is possible now to cure almost any case of stuttering with very little expense and treatment.

Turf-Lover—The Famous Morvich's racing record has twice been surpassed in the past 50 years. In 1893 Domino bettered his monetary receipts, and in 1907 Colin ran more profitable races. The three, however, won every race which they started as two-year olds.

MR. CHAS. L. BIETIE, Columbus, O.

Well-Known Columbus Man Recovers His Health After Suffering from Stomach Trouble and Rheumatism for a Long Time.

Mr. Charles L. Bietie, who lives at 122 E. Fulton Street, Columbus, employed at Holzman's & Sons' piano factory for the past twenty-two years, is very much pleased over his experience with Ka-di-ok. In a signed statement recently received, he says: "I was in very poor health due to stomach trouble and rheumatism. After eating I seldom escaped having an attack of indigestion, as my food seemed to ferment, causing gas and bloating pains on my stomach. Quite frequently I had dizzy spells and would feel faint and ready to keel over. I doctored myself continually but failed to get better until I took Ka-di-ok, which helped me after the first few days. I have taken all told, four bottles and I am now in better health than I have been for years; it is certainly a wonderful remedy and I want others to know about it."

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xenia.

FAT OR LEAN.

I was loaded down with lard, and had lost my pristine grace; I was much the fattest bard to be seen around the place; and the diet doctors said, "You are much too richly fed; you must live on graham bread and raw turnips for a space. Drastic rules you must obey if you'd have a slender form; you must walk twelve miles a day, in the sunshine or the storm; you must fire your fancy cook and drink water from the brook, and be guided by our book, which is full of by-laws warm." So I cut out all the grub that had made me large and fat, and ate mashies from a tub, and drank water from a vat; and the tallow seemed to melt underneath my snowy pelt, and quite willowly I felt, for a while, and that is that. But my dreams were all of steaks when at night I closed my eyes, and by day I thought of cakes and of large and stately pies; and I yearned for Irish stew and for chops and cutlets too, and my longings grew and grew till they reached a beastly size. So at last I rose and said, "Beauty isn't worth the cost; slaw and hay and sawdust bread as a diet are a frost; I shall eat the things I wish, roasted turkeys, beans and fish, every auspicious, tempting dish, though my shapeliness be lost." So the lard is coming back, I am fat, who once was lean; but I'm singing in my shack, I'm as happy as a queen; let Apollo strut around, let Narcissus paw the ground, I shall evermore be found where the gorgeous grub is seen.

Today's Talk

HOW CAN I GET ALONG WITH PEOPLE

I get along very well, and happily, with all my friends and associates. This is a much more remarkable statement than it, at first would seem.

The fact is that I am not any too easy to get along with!

I learned this fact a long time ago, and decided that I would make my friends a very glad and glorious asset. And this is the way I do it: I recognize the faults and failings of my friends as akin to my own, and then I dress myself all up in the clothes of an explorer and hunt for the good and lovely qualities in those whom I desire as my friends.

And it works wonderfully.

It is surprising what a little time it takes to cement a warm and enduring friendship, and to make that friendship one of the beautiful possession of this life.

I get along with people by playing their game much of the time, by measuring my own likes and dislikes against theirs.

Often I go out of my way to give others something that I would like very much to have—and lo and behold! I get that very thing myself.

I do little criticizing. I leave that for someone much wiser than I.

But when I have the opportunity to say something that I think will sparkle a smile or two, I take that opportunity. Why not? Is there anything that spurs the soul like recognition?

conAosred-- $Whkjs etaoi hrd rd I envy no one their good luck. In my heart I "God bless them." In reviewing my own life, I am made aware that luck has sprinkled its stars all along my way.

I get along with people by loving everything good and kind and generous that is within them.

P. R. R. RIFLE RANGE COMES TO XENIA AS CHAMPIONS ARE HERE

Because the Xenia rifle team of the Pennsylvania Railroad holds the championship of this region as well as the Cincinnati Division championship, the Pennsylvania Company, is building an indoor rifle range for the local sharpshooters on property adjacent to the "Y" in the west-end yards.

Although the team represents the Cincinnati Division in all competitive rifle matches, all of its members are from this city. Last year the Xenia team won the championship of western divisions at the rifle shoot held in Richmond, Indiana, and by virtue of the victory won the right to represent the western divisions in meeting the crack teams of the eastern divisions at Altoona, Pa., last fall. In the national event, the Xenia team came off tied for third place honors.

The new shooting gallery being erected by the company, is being constructed from four box cars that were set off at the spot. It will offer a 100-foot range on which the members of the team can keep in practice and improve their form. Although it is for the use of all rifle enthusiasts on the Cincinnati Division, it was located in this city because all members of the divisional championship team are located here.

Members of the team who hope to repeat the western division championship and to win the meeting with the eastern teams this year are Roy J. Alinger, J. C. Denham, T. E. Murray D. E. Martin, Ed. Betts, C. R. McNamee, Roy Jones and Ben E. Vickers.

GIRL WAS CAUSE OF MOB MURDERS

Bastrop, La., Jan. 10.—State's attorneys delved into the secrets of the Morehouse parish branch of the Ku Klux Klan in an effort to fix responsibility for the kidnaping and slaying of Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards, victims of black-hooded raiders.

Evidence was produced to show that doggings and deportations had been carried out under the direction of the leader of the parish klan and that black hoods were part of the regalia used by bands of klansmen on various expeditions.

Captain J. K. Skipwith, recognized leader of the klan organizations in Morehouse, was named by J. F. Norseworthy, who described himself as a former klansman, as the man who gave orders to the parish organization.

"White hoods and robes were for ceremony, to be worn inside the lodge-room and on parades, but the black hood was for raiding parties," Norseworthy declared.

Norseworthy's testimony reached a climax when he identified a black hood with low hanging apron under the chin, produced by A. V. Coco, state attorney general, as the headgear worn by klansmen on raids.

The testimony carried the narratives for a time beyond the incidents of the actual kidnaping of the two men, to expeditions on which Norseworthy said he was sent to lash and drive several men from Louisiana.

Norseworthy declared himself rated as a former "captain" in the klan organization.

Half a dozen witnesses testified, men who were taken prisoner or were present at the time Daniel and Richards were kidnaped.

All agreed that the kidnaping was at the hands of a black-hooded mob, armed with rifles, pistols and shotguns. None, however, could identify members of the band.

Another development was an announcement that an anonymous telephone message had been received warning federal investigators conducting an inquiry in conjunction with state officials, that a plot was under way to kidnap Addie May Hamilton, a young woman said to have been forced to leave Morehouse parish by men described as klansmen, and now at her home at Mer Rouge awaiting to be called as a witness in the present hearing. A civilian guard was placed at the Hamilton home.

BOTH OF THESE CHILDREN WERE SICK WITH BRONCHITIS

Father John's Medicine Gave Them Prompt Relief

When Mrs. George Smith, of Canton, Ohio, found that her children had severe cases of bronchitis, she decided to try Father John's Medicine, and she says, "My children are in better health since using the medicine. I think it is a great body builder. My boy was seriously run down and it has built him up so that now he is in excellent health." Signed Mrs. George Smith, 154 Fawcett Court, Canton, Ohio.

For over 67 years Father John's Medicine has been proven the greatest body builder. It is a pure, high grade emulsion of cod liver oil with other ingredients and is guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs.

OPERATION MADE BY USE OF FLASHLIGHT AS POWER GOES OFF

Wiping off a table with a dust cloth, Mrs. E. H. Meathman, 125 W. Second Street, ran a rusty needle in the fleshy part of her right hand, Tuesday afternoon.

The needle imbedded itself three-quarters of an inch in the hand, and then broke off. Mrs. Meathman was taken to McClellan Hospital, where the X-Ray was used to determine the position of the steel and she was given a local anesthetic preparatory to an operation.

As surgeons were about to begin the operation, the electric lights, which were off and on several times late in the afternoon, went off. The surgery was completed with the aid of a flashlight. Mr. Meathman, is manager of the Xenia Branch of the Dayton Power and Light Company which furnishes electric current for this city.

The injury to Mrs. Meathman's hand is not expected to prove serious.

MASONIC CLUB TO STAGE BIG SOCIAL MEETING THURSDAY

Members of the Xenia Masonic Club are preparing for the first and probably the largest social meeting of the club year of 1923, which will be held at the Masonic Hall, Thursday night, January 11.

A chicken dinner will be served at six o'clock, which will be followed by the feature of the evening, the appearance of Garfield B. McClellan, director of music at the National Cash Register Company of Dayton, who will give vocal numbers illustrated by stereopticon views.

A number of Dayton men will accompany Mr. McClellan to the meeting, including Wayne G. Lee, director of finance of the City of Dayton, who will be one of the speakers of the evening. Oscar P. Gilmore, who is well known in this city, will introduce the members of the visiting delegation, F. J. Bloese, prominent member of the Delco company of Dayton, will also be a member of the party.

The Masonic Club is rapidly growing, according to a club official, Wednesday, and is taking into its membership, any Mason in good standing. The meeting Thursday night is for club members only, the dinner to be served free. The club membership numbers between 150 and 200 Masons.

HUSBAND WANTS DIVORCE

John W. Stillwell charges that his wife refused to leave her mother and live with him in his petition for divorce from Ina Stillwell in Common Pleas Court. The couple was married July 18, 1922. After the marriage, they lived with the defendant's mother, the petition reads, but later the plaintiff alleges he rented and furnished a house for their occupancy but that his wife refused to live with him.

WIFE GRANTED SEPARATION

Bertha Dettie has been granted a divorce in Common Pleas Court from Van Buren Dettie on the grounds of gross neglect of duty, and has been awarded custody of their child, Neal Dettie.

TWO SALES APPROVED

Sale of property involved in the case of Lucy Allen, and others, against Arthur Hamilton, to Roy Matthews, for $1678, has been approved in Common Pleas Court. The sale of property involved in the case of Maggie Bledsaw against Joseph Bundy, and others, to Zachariah W. Lett, for $950 has also been approved in Common Pleas Court.

PLAINTIFF GETS JUDGMENT

W. H. Rockhold has been awarded judgment, including interest, amounting to $1659.24 against T. B. Frame and A. R. Frame, on a promissory note case in Common Pleas Court.

INHERITANCE TAX FIXED

Inheritance tax of $285.09 will be paid on the estate of Ida C. Woolsey, by Adda R. Oglesbee, the only beneficiary. The net value of the estate was $4,072.61, and the successor of not allowed exemption, there being no relationship.

The following dishes will soon be mentioned in some of the menus appearing daily at the top of this column:

Popovers: One cup of sweet milk two eggs (put in the milk without beating), one scant cup of bread flour and a pinch of salt. Stir all together until smooth and without lumps, then turn into a buttered muffin pan and bake 25 minutes in a hot oven. Do not open the oven door during the first 15 minutes of baking.

Maitre D'Hotel Sauce for Baked Fish: One-fourth pound of butter, one small onion finely chopped, the juice of one lemon and two tablespoons of chopped parsley. Put these four ingredients on the stove to simmer for 10 minutes. Serve very hot.

Baked Fish and Celery: Cook one cup of diced celery in one cup of sweet milk in the top of a double boiler; when tender, strain the milk from the celery, and cool both milk and celery. Now put into a small saucepan two tablespoons of butter, and when this has melted over a mild fire, stir into it one and one-half tablespoons of flour; when mixed to a smooth paste, add the strained cooled milk and let the mixture boil up once or twice; then add the cooked celery, one-half teaspoon of salt, a dash of pepper and one cup (or a little less) of cooked left-over fish of any kind. Turn the mixture into a buttered baking dish and cover the top with finely-diced bread, using two pieces of buttered bread to make these croutons. Slip the dish into a hot oven to remain till warmed through and the croutons well browned.

Sponge Muffins: One cup of sweet milk scalded, one-half yeast cake dissolved in one-fourth cup of warm water, three cups of bread flour, two tablespoons of shortening, one small teaspoon of salt and one tablespoon of sugar. Mix the shortening into the flour, add the dissolved yeast and the other ingredients and pour the mixture into greased muffin pans; set the pans in a warm place for four or five hours, when the batter will be raised and light. Then bake in a hot oven for one-half hour. These are delicious.

Each week I shall in this way publish, in advance, recipes for the dishes which coming menus will call for. So clip out these recipes and keep them till the menus appear which call for them.

WALTER MAKES EXCUSES FOR HELEN.

Chapter 74.

"Come, Doreen, don't give way again," Walter said as I started up from the couch with a remark about Helen. "She didn't mean to do anything out of the way. She said she was lonely, thought it would be company for her if she took Jackie, and never thought for a moment we would object."

"She lied! She knew if I were at home I never would let Jack go with her. If you hadn't told her your mother and I were both away she'd never have come near the house."

"She admitted that. Said she knew Jack was with Jennie, that she thought to please him by taking him to ride. She said he was as good as gold, and so happy with her, that she loved him, and couldn't understand our anxiety after Jennie told us he was with her, or your anger at her."

"I hate her! She's a snake. If anything had happened, Jack, I should have killed her I think," I replied. "And you excuse her, as you always do. Can't you see that girl isn't a safe person to know? A girl who will do a thing like that! I wish your mother was here—You'd see she would not be so easy. She has seen through that model of yours from the first."

"Please, Doreen," Grace said in a low voice, as Walter turned away, his anger with me now flushing his face.

I carried Jack from the room and put him to bed. As I undressed and fed my boy I felt that I never would leave him again, never let him out of my sight. I was sure Helen Ralstrom had some sinister native in telling him, probably to hurt and worry me. I knew she hated me because I saw through her attempts to influence Walter her flirtation with him.

Grace soon left but not until she had cautioned me not to say any more that night.

"I think Walter is almost as much worried as you, only he won't acknowledge it," she said. "It has hurt her with him, and perhaps will, in the end, be a good thing for you. Don't talk of it any more, tonight anyway."

I took her advice, hard as it was. Walter was very quiet, said very little all the evening, pretending to read. But just before he went to bed he said:

"Don't tell mother anything of what happened today, Doreen. It can do no good and will upset her so she'll make us miserable. Caution Jennie not to mention it. Mother never would let her stay if she knew she had let the boy go away from her when you were out."

"Very well," I spoke calmly, yet I couldn't help but feel he was trying to shield Helen Ralstrom, knowing his mother's dislike of her.

"That's a good sport, Doreen!" He kissed me and, as was his way when anything disagreeable had been managed to suit him, he was very loving, whistled as he walked about. I was still dreadfully nervous, and thought constantly of the strange affair, wished I knew what Walter had said to Helen after Grace and I came up, what she had said to him. Then even after I went to sleep, I awoke dreaming Jack was gone, that a woman had stolen him, and we couldn't find him. In the morning mail came a note from Helen Ralstrom to me. A note apologizing for taking Jack in my absence repeating what she said the night before, that she thought it all right, never dreamed I would object. She hoped I would not hold it against her, that we would still be friends.

I saw Walter's hand in the apology, knew as well as if he had told me that he had in some way made her yield to his demand that she apologize to me.

After I read it I laid it down beside my plate. "I see you have a note from Helen. May I see it?" Walter asked. I gave it to him.

"A very nice note," he said. "Now let's forget all about it. It's too bad she was so foolish, but it's over, and post-mortems never do any good."

I made no answer but he seemed not to notice, and when he left for the studio he cautioned me again about letting his mother know.

"Don't forget to tell Jennie to keep her mouth shut if she wants to stay," he added.

Poor Jennie! He face and eyes were so swollen I knew she had cried all night. I hadn't it in my heart to blame her, so told her to say nothing about it, never to let anyone take Jack unless I said they might.
